Lost

By Jess McGeachin

What does it mean to be lost? Is it stranded at sea without a map, or carefully camouflaged in the wild? Travel back in time to hear herds of honking dinosaurs, find sunken shipwreck treasure and uncover ancient cities in the sand. The things we've lost could even hold the key to protecting our future, so there's not a moment to lose. Lost worlds await!

OUR THOUGHTS

"A beautifully illustrated book full of fascinating bite sized pieces of information that is perfect as a leisure NF browser. Worth having in KS2 collections."

TIME TO TALK

- 1 What "lost" thing from the book would you like to go back in time and visit, and why?
- 2 What does the word lost mean in this book?
- 3 The book itself asks questions that can make you think, such as on page 19 Lost Cities, it asks "What does it mean to lose a city". Think about that and any other questions posed in the text.
- 4 Have you ever visited an old building like a ruined castle, or old church?
- 5 Did you imagine the lives of people who lived there?
- 6 What do you think is in danger of being lost that exists nowadays? Is there anyway we can help to preserve it?
- 7 What part of the book fascinates you the most?
