

TITLE: The stinky cheese and other fairly stupid tales

AUTHOR: Jon Scieszka

INTEREST AGE: 6-12 Years

BOOKBAND: Dark Blue

OUR REVIEW: Off the wall fairy stories with creative typography & surreal illus. Great.

WRITING IDEAS:

TASK 1

The Stinky Cheese Man ran and ran but no one would ever follow him. It could be because of his smell or it could be because they really didn't like cheese.

Design your own character that you would want to chase. Write a story about a little old man and a little old woman making your food man.

Make the body out of your favourite food and add other types of food that you like for his eyes, nose and mouth.

TASK 2

The entire book is full of short stories on taking classic fairy tales and giving them a new spin. Choose your favourite fairy tale and put a new spin on it. Make it as fun and unique as possible.

For example, what would happen if Cinderella had an iron boot instead of a glass slipper?

TASK 3

Where did the fox go? The fox likes to appear in almost every story. Continue on with the story of the Stinky Cheese Man as if the fox never even appeared. Where would he go next? Would he try and cross the water on his own? Decide how the story is going to end without the help of the sly fox.

Other books by Jon Scieszka include...

